Summary:

I started working as a Procurement Analyst, but I fell in love with web development. So, my journey began with online courses, articles and a lot of time spent in front of the laptop with text editors, the terminal and the 'inspect' element.

My passion for technologies and the genuine curiosity help me to learn fast, so in the last period I've been getting better and better with JavaScript (React Js) and with web app development, as I intend to be the a good and happy Frontend Developer.
